MATTAPOISETT SELECTMAN NOT TO RUN

Mr. Manuel Linhares is concluding 28 years of service as Selectman to the Town of Mattapoisett. He has announced his decision not to seek re-election to this post which he has won since 1935. During this period in office, Mr. Linhares has seen much growth in this town and in his dual capacities as Selectman and contractor has had a personal hand in shaping the direction as well as the appearance of this town. His many attractive Cape Cod type homes bear a distinctive Linhares stamp and they add immeasurably to the beauty of this village that will be lasting.

In announcing his decision, Mr. Linhares expresses his thanks to the Town officers and to the townspeople who have been of help to him during his term of office.

We would like to be among the first to congratulate Mr. Linhares and express appreciation for his long public service.

DEADLINE FOR NOMINATION PAPERS

Helen G. Tinkham, Mattapoisett Town Clerk, announces that the deadline for filing nomination papers for the coming March election is January 29th, at 5:00 PM at the Town Clerk's

The Burning of the Ocean Rover (Concluded)

When Capt. Semmes of the Confederate sea-raider Alabama had captured the Mattapoisett whaling bark Ocean Rover off the Azores, he pulled one of his tricks for which he became famous (or infamous, depending which side you were on). Instead of burning the Ocean Rover right away, he waited until night, when the flames from the 900 bbls. of sperm oil shot high into the night, and the glare of the burning whaler lighted the sky for miles and miles.

This time he made a tremendous haul--eight whalers came to the rescue of the burning vessel; all eight were captured and burned: the Ships Benjamin Tucker, Osceola, Virginia, and Elisha Dunbar of New Bedford, Ocean of Sandwich, Alert of New London, and Schooners Altamaha of Marion and Weather Gage of Provincetown. (The first four had been built in Mattapoisett.)

On board the Altamaha were Judah Hathaway of Rochester, mate; James R. Blankenship of

As soon as the captured crews were taken aboard the Alabama, their officers were immediately handcuffed and kept under guard on deck. Some of them began talking about ways to keep their handcuffs as souvenirs. When they asked a guard if they could buy them, the answer was no.

Matthew Hiller watched his chance, and when the handcuffs were unlocked under guard, he slipped behind the officer into a group of prisoners whose handcuffs had already been relocked, and held his hands together as if his, too, were locked. When the officers and crews of the captured whalers were sent ashore on Flores, Hiller discovered that he was the only man of the whole lot--about 125--who had been successful in keeping his handcuffs.

This pair of handcuffs is now in the Mattapoisett Historical Museum, the gift of Capt. Hiller's son, Matthew Hiller.

The ships' crews had to stay in Flores a month and were handsomely treated by the Portugese people. Finally the packet Newsboy arrived and took them to Boston. In Mrs. Purrington's diary we get the final note back home in Mattapoisett:

"Oct. 28.....This eve, after tea, I went up to the depot. There was quite an excitement there, on account of the arrival of some of the crew of the Ocean Rover. Addie was there to meet William, but he did not come and she was sadly disappointed. He shipped on board another vessel, and will not be home until April."

Note on the men: Judah Hathaway was grandfather of Mr. Judah Humphrey of Mattapoisett and Mr. Albert Humphrey of Rochester, and father of the late Mrs. Elwood Hiller, Sr., of Marion.

Matthew Hiller is well remembered in Mattapoisett, having spent the latter years of his life in his house on the east side of lower Cannon St., living on into the 1930's active and alert although in his nineties. He was twice married, and was the father of nine children. One of his sons was the late George Hiller of Main St. One of his grandsons is Mr. Ira Hiller of Water St.

JUNIOR GRANGE

The Mattapoisett Juvenile Grange held its meeting Friday night with the worthy master presiding. Gilbert Collins, Pomona representative, was the guest of honor and commended the Juniors for their fine work.

Several applications were brought in and will be voted on at the next meeting. An invitation was read by the secretary, Billy Harris, from the Subordinate Grange inviting the older Junior members to the birthday anniversary Thursday night, January 17th.

Plans were completed for the traveling food sale on Saturday, January 12th.

Doris Fearing, chairman of the Home and Community Service Committee, reported the doll dressed by the Junior girls which won first award at the State Grange Session has been taken to Kathy Archibald, a patient at Lakeville Hospital.

Barry Denham was the prize winner in the Lecturer's March.

The lecturer announced the meeting of January 25th will be Home and Community Service night in charge of chairman, Doris Fearing, and her committee.

Square dancing was the lecturer's program and was enjoyed by all. This was given thru the kindness of Charles Dexter as instructor and caller, and by Audrey Davis of New Bedford at the piano.

Francis Kelly served punch during the evening.
